

Senator Bingham Strikes Back at His Accusers

Says Lobby Committee Was Framed Against a Friend of the Administration—Talks of "Police Court Methods."

Washington, Oct. 28 (AP).—Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, and members of the senate lobby committee engaged in one of the most bitter personal exchanges in senate history today as Bingham struck back at his accusers.

Replying to the severe condemnation by the committee of his use of Charles L. Eyanson, representative of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association, in framing the tariff bill, Dingham shouted that the "purpose" of the committee investigation was to "befoul me by innuendo and twisting of sinister evidence."

"I resent it and I shall resent it until the end of time," the tall Connecticut senator thundered pounding his desk with his clenched fist.

Leaping to his feet in reply, Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, a member of the committee, denied a statement by Bingham that he (Blaine) had used a capitol policeman as a chauffeur for his car. ad-

"He is throwing up a smoke screen in that charge, against a slimy, dirty trail mapped out designedly from the office of the senator from Connecticut to the office of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association.

"If the senator wants to know who drove my car over the mountains I will tell him that I did. No capitol policeman did and no capitol policeman was asked to."

Intends to Offer Resolution

Chairman Norris of the senate judiciary committee, announced in the senate today that he intended to offer a resolution in connection with the case of Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut.

EXECUTED FOR OPPOSING GOVERNMENT POLICIES

Moscow, Oct. 28 (AP).—Opposition to government policies has cost 26 Kulaks, or rich peasants, in various parts of Soviet Russia their lives.

Tass, official news agency, today said that a number of peasants had been executed after investigation of government agents into enormous difficulties in gathering grain from

The executions are but a few of those carried out to date by the authorities in their determination to fulfil their policies.

Notable recently besides these were the execution of 14 persons at Rostov-on-Don and 21 at Krasnodar, both in the North Caucasus, for alleged counter-revolutionary activity. Of the 26 rich peasants executed 15 met death at different points in Novorossiysk either for opposing a

MISS PLANK TO TELL ABOUT THE "MAGIC DINNER."

The fifth lesson in the series given by the home service bureau of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation is called the "Magic Dinner." The mysteries of this magic will be made known in the regular class which will be held by Miss Elizabeth R. Plank, home service director, at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday

The magical part of the dinner consists of the homemaker's ability to be miles away for hours at a time to entertain guests in her own home without "pot watching," or to occupy her time in any desired way without having to interrupt her pursuits with dinner preparation. Certain combinations of dishes can be cooked perfectly in the same period of time at the same the same period of time at the same temperature in the oven. The oven-cooked foods often have greater nutritional value and better flavor than those prepared by the surface method. One of the menus consisted of roast stuffed teal, scalloped potatoes, buttered beans and cinnamon

E. M. Stanbrough To Succeed Self

Supervisor Edward M. Stanbrough was elected to the board of supervisors two years ago by the voters of the Twelfth ward, and he made such an excellent record in the board of supervisors that he has been selected this year by the Republican party as the candidate to succeed himself in the county legislature.

Supervisor Stanbrough has proven that he was well qualified to represent his ward in the supervisors, and there are several reasons why he should again be returned to office in November. His business training over a period of years has been such that he has proven a valuable member of the county legislature. He has studied county finance and believes thoroughly in the Republican policy of "pay as you go".

Ulster County Medical Society

Regularly Attended By Physicians From Communities Throughout the County—Held at the Ulster County Hospital.

The regular October meeting of the Ulster County Medical Society was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel at Kingston, N. Y., on Wednesday evening, October 23rd, with a large attendance of physicians from communities throughout the county, especially Ellenville, Saugerties, Highland, Milford, Kingston, etc. As it was the first meeting after the summer vacation, many important matters were brought up.

Officers for the ensuing year were nominated as follows:
President, Dr. E. Forrest Sibley.

Secretary, Dr. Fred Voss.
Treasurer, Dr. Chester Van Gaasbeek.

Delegate to the state society meeting, Dr. Mary Gage-Day; Dr. A. A. Voss, alternate.

Delegate to the third district branch, Dr. F. Holcomb, Kingston; Dr. Frank Holcomb, Ellenville, alternate.

Dr. Emil S. Goodyear of Main street was elected a member of the society after the nominations.

Dr. Snyder, president, explained the importance of periodic health examinations and urged that the county society members use their influence to have their private practices to have their friends examined at least once a year and thus ward off disease in its early stages.

The speaker also touched on the importance of the physicians protecting the children of the county by giving the anti-diphtheria immunization against diphtheria.

Dr. Snyder spoke of the importance and immediate need of a new county tuberculosis hospital. This topic immediately brought forth a heated discussion in which the present board of supervisors were severely criticised for delaying the building of the new hospital. The discussion continued for over an hour and a half. It finally ended by the appointment of a committee of ten to aid the board of supervisors in erecting a new hospital immediately.

The slogan of Ulster county will be that as given by the state commissioner of health, Dr. Macg. "Public Health is Purchasable With Certain Limitations". That Ulster county had sadly neglected to purchase her share of public health was pointed out by many concrete and pathetic examples of tuberculosis cases by the doctors throughout the whole county.

After the business session Dr. F. Holcomb, as chairman of the scientific program, introduced Dr. F. H. Voss, who spoke on the clinics of Vienna, Heidelberg, London and Dublin and illustrated many points by the showing of moving pictures taken by him while abroad the first six months of his year. Following Dr. Voss's talk refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

"PIETRO" IN PERSON AT ANNUAL DINNER OF MEN'S CLUB

West Park, Oct. 28.—To the entrancing music from the bejeweled accordion of the great "Pietro" Delro, internationally known artist, the members of the West Park Men's Club and their friends made "whoop-pee" at their second annual dinner dance at the Golden Rule Inn, Ulster Park, this past week. The appearance of Mr. Delro, who has been visiting his friend, Aldo Broglio, a member of the club, was a surprise feature. His splendid performance was greeted with cheers and many "bravos".

Another feature was a specialty dance by Mr. Prosper of Esopus. It was well executed and well received.

Addresses were delivered by Assemblyman Millard Davis and the Rev. S. G. Dunneath of West Park. Assemblyman Davis congratulated the club on its achievements and urged its members to continue their good work in the interest of community friendship and cooperation.

James Burger, West Park, president of the club, presided at the speakers' table.

Dr. Blakeslee of Highland, Mr. Covert of Clintonville and Mr. Cudney of West Park were the judges of the old-fashioned dance contest and awarded the prizes to Miss Eleanor Vail of West Park and B. Loughran of Esopus.

The attendance was much greater than last year. Gustav Schmidt, Augustus Garibaldi and the Rev. S. G. Dunneath were the members of the committee on arrangements.

In Memoriam.

In sad and loving memory of our dearly beloved husband and father, Albert Vogel, who departed this life suddenly one year ago today, October 28, 1928.

One year has passed since that sad day.

When the one we loved was called away.

His blow was great, the shock severe.

We little thought his death so near.

We never knew what pain he had, we did not see him die.

We only know he passed away and never add good-bye.

Loving and kind in all his ways, bright and just to the end of his days.

Hearts and true in heart and mind, what a beautiful memory left behind.

Only those who have lost can tell the pain of parting without farewell. Gone never to be forgotten.

Farm Bureau Starts Campaign

Community Committee Meetings Held—First Letter Sent Out—Goal Set For 1,000—Annual Meeting December 3.

The fiscal year of the Ulster County Farm Bureau starts November 1. At this time old members renew their membership by mail and new members are solicited. Plans to carry this out are now completed.

During the past three weeks a series of 18 community committee meetings have been held by Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau and W. S. Salisbury, assistant manager. At these meetings the program of work for the coming year was arranged in each community. Meetings and demonstrations of all kinds were requested.

A new feature in the Farm Bureau organization is getting under way. This is the selection of county committees with one representative from each community. These committees have been selected for fruit, dairy and poultry and farm mechanics. Each will have a meeting during November and decide upon county-wide activities in their respective fields.

The first renewal letter was mailed last week. Enclosed in this letter was a pamphlet outlining the set up and work of the Farm Bureau. Additional copies of this bulletin are available at the Farm Bureau office.

On Thursday, October 31, a statement will be sent out to all members of the Farm Bureau for their 1930 dues. To date a number of memberships have already been received at the Farm Bureau office.

Every membership sent in by mail saves the Farm Bureau considerable money and the time of committee-men who do the canvassing.

The plan is to complete the membership campaign by November 30. This will allow a few days to check up on the results for the annual meeting, which will be held in Kingston December 3. This will be followed a few days later by the big annual banquet. Plans for the banquet are already under way.

At a joint meeting of all community chairmen and directors, the goal for 1930 Farm Bureau members was set at 1,000. Everyone is working earnestly to reach this number by November 30. It seems that forty new members must be secured over the past year's membership.

DESTRUCTIVE OIL BURNER BRINGS OUT FIREFMEN

Fire in the basement of the Leo Lurie building on John street, adjoining the Mohican Market, caused an alarm to be rung in from Box 92, Wall and John streets, at 11:30 o'clock this morning. An oil burner which was out of adjustment was the cause. Workmen engaged in making repairs to the heater claim the pilot light became extinguished while the motor continued to spray oil in the heater. When the pilot light was ignited the oil fumes burst out, spreading oil over the furnace room. One of the workmen sent in a still alarm but when the firemen arrived they found a considerable blaze in progress and a great quantity of smoke and an alarm was rung in. Damage was confined to the cellar, although there was considerable smoke throughout the building. The upper floor is occupied by the law offices of Andrew J. Cook. Both of the stores on the first floor are at present vacant.

The newest and latest microphones and amplifiers will be installed in the armory, the stage will be an actual reproduction of the studio at WJZ, and everyone will not only see the entire show, but hear it as well.

LAST NIGHT
on the RADIO

Reception Saturday and all day Sunday was excellent with the exception of occasional and exceedingly diabolical noises made by local interferences. Testing out one of the new sets Saturday night, 45 stations were received clearly and identified. At least as many more were heard but not identified through lack of time and patience. Among the stations identified were Minneapolis, Dallas, Chicago, Bangor, Asheville, St. Petersburg (Florida), Montreal, Boston, Washington, Atlanta, Shreveport, Louisville, Toronto, Bridgeport, Hartford, Milwaukee and Cincinnati. The aerial used is not best adapted to reception from the west.

Sunday there was excellent daylight reception from Cincinnati, Bridgeport, Boston, Springfield, Montreal and other distant points.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

A Touch of Black Makes the Smartest World Akin

New York—Everywhere smart women congregate, one is impressed by their partiality for black. It may be black relieved by white, egg shell or even a pronounced color, but black registers either as the keynote of the costume, or as its accessory note. It has become quite smart to complement a bright dress by a black hat, bag, gloves and shoes, while an added black belt, by way of emphasis to the waistline may transform a more or less common place dress into one worthy of scrutiny.

It is the consensus of opinion that the modern dress must be fitted over some sort of foundation. If one balks at the very name of corsets there are other names under which they retain their corset-like qualities. Such underthings are of necessarily long and cunningly fitted to the figure so that the hips may be smoothly fitted, to the waist where it will. Women are refusing to follow blindly any rule which restricts the placement of this line, just as they are refusing to adopt long skirts excepting for appropriate occasions.

Both gloves and stockings have deepened in tone, and women seem partial to suede as a material for their own shoes. There is some rumor to the effect that a revival of bronze kid is anticipated, but other than the partially accented brown or bronze as a color, there is little to substantiate this report. The preference is distinctly for unpolished surfaces, such as suede. This is also true of gloves which show a tendency to attain great length and have taken to smartly crinkling at the wrist.

The SANDMAN STORY

ABOUT THE OTTERS

"NOW, now," said Mother Otter, "we must all pay attention."

"Mother means," said one of the little Otters, "that we children must pay attention to her. She doesn't mean that she must pay attention to what we say."

"That is what mothers always mean, I think," said another wise little Otter.

But they could not talk any more now. Lessons had begun.

First of all there was the lesson of diving without splashing.

"Of course," said Mother Otter, "when it is playtime you may dive and splash all you like. But you must also know how to dive without splashing so you can feel your enemy."

"Eat the Eels From the Tail," Mother Otter said.

So Mother Otter taught her children the diving-without-splashing lesson, which is as important a lesson in Otter school as spelling is in regular schools.

After they knew their lesson pretty well for the day Mother Otter taught them how to catch frogs and how to get off the frogs' skins after they were caught.

In Otter school that was an important lesson for people to learn how to use a fork and how bad it is to eat with a knife!

The next lesson was in eating. That was just as important a lesson in Otter school as reading or arithmetic is in regular schools.

"Children, Otter children," said Mother Otter, "do this right. Eat the eels from the tail just as the trout must always be eaten from the head."

At first they found it as hard to do as you might find it to get an arithmetic sum right. But the lesson had to be learned.

Mother Otter was a strict teacher. She didn't allow any fooling.

Then they had a lesson in how to wander far from home and come back another way so as to deceive their enemies who might be trying to trace them home the way they had gone out.

They had a busy time with lessons, and then they took trips and learned to explore, to find out where the best rivers and banks were to be found, and how they could travel and what they could eat along the way.

They learned not to be too fussy about their food. "If you only eat a few things," said Mother Otter, "and those few things give you all you will have trouble. So learn to eat many kinds of food and you will live long and get strength."

They learned all their lessons well—these smart young Otters, but every evening when lesson time was over—for slither Otter was quite strong for night school—they played.

Such a scrambling and a tumbling and a playing and a scampering and a frolic as there was, and Mother Otter joined in their play, too.

She didn't sit off and read and knit and say:

"Children, don't make such a noise. You tire my poor head!"

No, she was just as fond of playing with them as she was of teaching them. And before they went to sleep Mother Otter sang them the Otters' Bedtime Story-Song which goes like this to the accompaniment of a splashing sound:

Go to sleep, little Otters, my dears,
Dive away all your fears, fears, fears.
If you learn the Otters' dive ways,
You'll live for days and days,
And nights and nights and nights,
So drive away your frights.

Go to sleep, little Otters, my dears,
Play when you can, play drives away
fears;
And playing makes you cheery,
Keeps you from being weary,
And when all is said and done,
There's nothing just like fun!

Go to sleep, little Otters, my dears,
Go to sleep, little Otters, my dears,
Go to sleep, little Otters, my dears.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"POET LAUREATE"

FROM our school days, most of us have sensed romance in the title of "Poet Laureate," which is conferred upon only one poet in England to be held by him until his death, when the next Poet Laureate is chosen.

The term "Laureate" comes from "laurel" and the reference is to the old custom at the English universities of presenting those receiving degrees in poetry and rhetoric with a wreath of laurel. This was originally an ancient custom, the Greeks being known to have so crowned their popular poets.

The title was first conferred in 1670. The early Poet Laureate was an officer in the greatly beloved king's household, whose business it was to compose an ode for the king's birthday, and other important occasions. The modern title however is purely honorary.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

THE GRAF ZEPPELIN

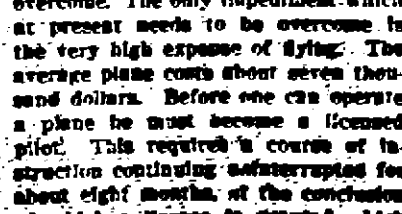

THE successful flight of the Graf Zeppelin from the Statue of Liberty to Friedrichshafen, to Tokyo, to Los Angeles and back to New York records a new departure in air-craft. It is too early to inquire about practical results from experiments of this nature. Suffice that such accomplishments are possible. The knowledge essential to driving the huge ship is all the more wonderful when we consider that air craft is a comparatively new venture. The globe circling tour undoubtedly ranks first among scientific achievements of our age.

Experiments in the field of abstract science call for technical knowledge of the highest order, but the element of risk is comparatively slight. In the wonderful achievement of Commander Eckener something more than a scientific spirit was needed. He possessed that, but of equal importance was his spirit of heroism which made him willing to risk even life itself in his efforts to realize a burning purpose.

The successful flight of the Graf Zeppelin in her round the world cruise was due in no small part to that noble quality, the willingness to play a rendezvous with death in the effort to realize an ideal.

Lack of safety was for many years the chief hindrance to the development of air craft. Commander Eckener has demonstrated that hazards due to storms and air currents can be overcome. The only impediment which at present needs to be overcome is the very high expense of flying. The average plane costs about seven thousand dollars. Before one can operate a plane he must become a licensed pilot. This requires a course of instruction continuing uninterrupted for about eight months, at the conclusion of which a license is granted which costs from four to five thousand dollars. When the cost of flying is reduced so that a man of moderate means can own a plane, it will become more popular and more extensively used for both business and pleasure. As the automobile succeeded the horse and wagon, so airplanes are destined to succeed automobiles.

His 30-Year Stamp Hunt Ends With $50,000 Sale

Fred S. Raff, with a part of his 30-year stamp collection.

Chicago (AP)—Fred S. Raff, a bachelor, was a stamp collector when a kid, but he kept at it for 30 years and now he has sold his collection for $50,000.

Raff, who specialized in United States pre-cancelled stamps, had about 8,000,000 stamps in his collection, he estimated. They cost him around $10,000 in cash, to say nothing of the time.

He began buying bags of pre-cancelled stamps, which later grew to tons. At one time he bought five tons of stamps. It took him several years to assort them in his spare time. The valuable ones he kept, the others he sold to dealers for boys' packets.

Debating League Meeting Here over 100 delegates attend meeting at high school—discuss plans and elect officers—demonstration debate.

The Debating League of Eastern New York held its third annual meeting at Kingston High School Saturday morning when over 100 delegates met in the auditorium to discuss plans and elect officers for the coming year.

Miss Lucile Stevens, coach of debating at Poughkeepsie and secretary of the league, reviewed the plans that had been adopted at the meeting held in Newburgh last January. At that time it had been decided to extend the league to include the smaller schools of the district. This plan has now worked satisfactorily since 14 schools—Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Kingston, Hudson, Monticello, Ellenville, Tannersville, Rhinebeck, Maybrook, Millbrook, Arlington, Highland, Cornwall-on-Hudson, and New Paltz—were represented at Saturday's meeting.

Following Miss Stevens' report W. J. Goddard, professor of Political Science at Union College, Schenectady, and head of their debating activities, presented a new plan for a New York State Debating League. This league is being sponsored by Union College, and is a modification of leagues already organized by Rutgers College and by universities in Nebraska and Wisconsin. This plan provides that the entire state shall be divided into eight districts, the schools within the district to debate with each other, and later, the winners of each district to debate together, until by a process of elimination, one school could be declared the state winner. Mr. Goddard was urged in requesting that the Debating League of Eastern New York become a part of the State Debating League. But since that league is not yet functioning, and since the local league is already prepared to begin its debating activities it was decided to defer definite action at this time.

The feature of the morning's program was a demonstration debate presided by the Franklin Debating Society of Newburgh High School. The question was "Resolved, that every automobile owner should carry a personal liability insurance of at least five thousand dollars." Many interesting facts were brought out during the lively discussion that followed. The affirmative arguments revealed that seventy-five per cent of the motorists in the United States have annual incomes of only two thousand dollars or less, and that eight million dollars worth of damage is done to life and property in this state each year. The negative explained that such a law, instead of decreasing accidents had increased accidents by twenty-one per cent in Massachusetts, the only state to have compulsory insurance and that ninety-five per cent of the motorists never have accidents that require liability. The affirmative team was composed of Samuel Nagen, Richard Gullersleeve, Harold Schneider, and James Fariso, secretary. The negative team, Sidney Blatt, Morris Levinson, Avery Redner and Leon Goldenburg. Ernest Levinson, also a student of Newburgh High School, acted as chairman of the meeting. The negative was declared the winner.

Following the debate S. L. Zuman, professional judge of debating at Rutgers, spoke extolling the Newburgh debate and explaining to the students and coaches just wherein they had done well and where they might have improved.

The business session concluded with the election of officers for the coming year:

President, J. A. Holzschuh of Cornwall; first vice president, Miss Ethel M. Hall of Kingston; second vice president, George Schwab of Arlington; secretary, Miss Lucile Stevens of Poughkeepsie; treasurer, Franklin Froehner of Newburgh.

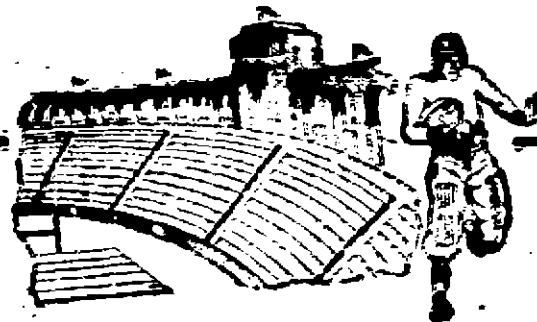

Afterwards a most delightful luncheon was served by the home-making department of the high school, under the direction of Miss Rhos Bargett. During the luncheon, May Cecil Carter, president of the National Forensic League and debate coach at Albany High School, spoke on "The Value of Education," bringing out very forcibly its cultural value and the training that it gives in self-expression and self-development.

Sentenced for murdering Jew.

Jerusalem, Oct. 28 (AP).—Two Arabs were sentenced to death today and two to ten years' hard labor on charges of murdering a Jew in the recent Moslem-Semitic disorders at Safed. A Jew accused of firing at and wounding four Arabs at Jaffa was acquitted because of unreliable Arab evidence.

K. H. S. Beats Port Jervis For Second DUSO Win

Lone Touchdown, the Result of a Pass in Last Quarter, Gives Local Eleven 6 to 0 Victory—Kingston Strong on Defense—Play at Peckskill Saturday.

Kingston High School took a lone strike toward the DUSO League crown when they defeated Port Jervis, 6 to 0, at the latter's gridiron Saturday afternoon. This was an important game for the Maroon and White eleven and that lone touchdown which came in the last quarter as the result of the pass caught by Gaddis over the goal line, loomed big on the score board as that last scored pass which ended the furious battle. This was the second league victory for the locals.

A cold west wind swept the field broadside and gray threatening clouds hung over the gridiron as the Maroon and White colors clashed with the Red and Black. For three quarters neither team outpointed the other at hitting the line or in the overhead attack but Coach Kias's scoring machine was due to roll down the field sometime or other and they did in that final period. With the ball on the nine yard line and the last downs, Eddie Minasian, Kingston's little quarterback, heaved a pass, and out of the dusk a pair of Maroon arms striped with White appeared and gathered in the pigskin over the final white line which spelled victory.

At first it appeared as though the local team started to play with the idea of just holding Port Jervis from scoring for their ball carrying by no means showed the superiority that it did in previous games. On the other hand the strategy of the Red and Black playing baffled the locals. Duffy, of the Tri-State eleven, shot off tackle and around Kingston's ends on spectacular runs. Occasionally he would break loose and twist his way through the whole Kingston team, going down to the safety man, who would bring him down.

It wasn't until the second quarter that the Kingston backs began to gain ground in an effective way. After Port took the ball down to Kingston's 18 yard line they were held. From this point the Maroon team waged a strong and steady attack, making four first downs in a row. The local eleven took the ball from its own 18 yard line to Port Jervis' 35 yard line. In this hike Parks ran 12 yards around end for a first down. Watts made short gains through the line and Dana was an outstanding factor in this march for he made two first downs going 5 and 3 yards at a time off tackle.

Kingston tried five passes in the entire game, which they completed and Port Jervis seemed unsteady under the aerial attack. On the other hand the Red and Black attempted to swamp Kingston with passes. Now and then one would be caught and a gain of 20 or 25 yards made. In the second quarter Port completed one of its longest passes. The oval was on their own 30 yard strip when Duffy tossed a pass into the arms of Birmingham 25 yards away. The latter was tackled as he caught the ball.

Dana Stars
The Maroon and White's left half-back played outstanding in other games but in this contest Saturday he was the bright light of the Kingston backfield. Few times that Dana took the ball that he didn't go for at least five yards. He shook off tacklers and wiggled his way through a string of men like an eel. Whenever a gain is needed without fail Dana carries the pigskin and he very seldom is stopped before he covers the required ground.

Dana not alone carried the ball in an excellent way for Kingston but he was also on the receiving end of passes. Parks was another fast, hard hitting halfback in the Maroon and White backfield. This boy, like his team-mate, did some great running, mostly circling the ends. Parks has a shifty way of running and brings his knees high and this causes tacklers to slide off.

The Red and Black by no means were lacking in fast dependable ball carriers for Duffy with his running mate Casterline made things look bad for Kingston now and then as they ripped either through the line or went on nights around the ends. Duffy made sweeps around Kingston's left side of the line and on one of those sprints he managed to get through the whole local team but Mohr followed the flying end of the field and as the Port broke loose Mohr hit him from the side and drove him out of bounds on the 42 yard line.

Kingston Scores.
In the last part of the third quarter Kingston was forced to punt when they had the ball on their own 47 yard strip. Watts got off a 36 yard kick and Curtis who received the boot failed to return it any. From the 36 yard line Duffy took the ball on the next two plays for 3 and 3 yards respectively. On the remaining two attempts Kingston held Port.

The Maroon and White regained possession of the ball on the Red and Black's 37 yard line. Dana took the oval for five yards on the first play, but on the next two the local eleven were held by a strong Port defense. On their last downs Watts tossed a pass to Jerry Dana, who caught it on the 13 yard line and was downed immediately. Watts then took the ball through center for 6 yards and Dana first made himself outstanding once more when he went from the 11 yard strip to Port's 4 yard line on an off tackle play. On the next play Parks tried an end run but was brown for a loss back on the nine

Indians to Use Wooden Football in "Olympics"

Native Indian games, played by Indians themselves, will be included in the "Olympics" of Mexico at Mexico City in January.

A "football" game will be played by members of the Tarascan tribe of southwestern Mexico. Instead of using an inflated leather football, however, these Indians use a large wooden ball which they kick hard. The Tarascan are noted for their endurance, studies being told that their favorite method of deer hunting is to run after the animal until it drops from exhaustion. These Indians in recent years have staged exhibition distance races in several parts of the United States.

The ancient sport called "goemede" is believed by some to be the forerunner of American baseball, which is still played by Indians of Mexico will also be played at the "Olympics." Members of northern Mexico mountain tribes will give an exhibition of this sport.

An old Aztec ball game also is to be revived. Members of the Totonaca tribe will come from the state of Veracruz to play.

The January meet, which is sponsored by the ministry of education, will be the largest affair of its kind ever held in Mexico. Virtually all sports played in Mexico will be included, competition will be national in scope.

Odd Coup by Tampa Club Costly to John McGraw

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, missed signing Wally Brush, speed king of the Southeastern league, by three hours last summer, and it cost him $12,500—or $4,170 per hour. That's what McGraw paid the Tampa club for Brush the other day. Last summer both the Giants and Tampa were dickering with the pitcher. Brush wanted to sign with the Giants and did. He muffed in his signed contract at midnight one night. But his friends put over a fast one. Three hours before Brush mailed his contract to New York his friends wired the Tampa club over his signature, accepting terms with it.

A merry row was in sight. But Tampa threatened to go to Judge Landis, and McGraw withdrew his claim.

Alabama Seeking Game With Army for 1931

A move has been launched by the alumni council of the University of Alabama to bring football teams of Alabama and the Army together on the gridiron in 1931.

The game probably would be played in New York. Negotiations for the game have been under way for some time, says Burden Burr, Birmingham attorney, and a member of the council. Both teams have established impressive records in intercollegiate contests in recent years, and a contest would be another test of strength of teams from the East and the South. Yale is to play University of Georgia at Athens.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

The All-American debate will be as shortly, if it hasn't already started. Most of the discussion, as usual, will dwell upon the exploits of the tall-carriers. For variety, look into the achievements of these few line-men, so far among the most outstanding:

Sam Wakeman, Cornell, tackle and captain.
Bert Schwartz, California guard.
Morris Souwager, Tulane guard.
Jap Jouds, Washington & Jefferson guard.
Joe Donohoe, Pittsburgh end.

Wakeman, Schwartz and Jouds, on one and the same afternoon, put on about as spectacular a set of performances along the forward line as has been witnessed anywhere so far this season.

Against Princeton, Wakeman was up and down the line to break up four successive Tiger plays at a time when Cornell was hard pressed to protect its winning lead. Cornell, under Dobie, has specialized in turning out great tackles, and Wakeman looks like one of the best, as good as Hanson or Sundstrom of All-American fame.

Douds was a big factor the same day in W. & J.'s scoreless tie with Carnegie. He is playing his last year with the Presidents and apparently set to make it his greatest.

Stanford had a brace of fine guards last year in Post and Roberson, but neither ever put on a better one-day performance than Mr. Schwartz of Berkeley did against Pennsylvania. It seemed as though he made about 50 per cent of the tackles, shifting his 200 pounds around with the agility of a panther pouncing upon its prey.

Bodenzer is hailed as one of the best linemen in the South. "He weighs 195 pounds, is very fast and in almost every line play when he is in the game," writes an observer of the Tulane Green Wave.

Two of the East's greatest ball-carriers are the Army's incomparable Red Cagle and Dartmouth's wily Al

Church League Meeting Tuesday

There has been quite some discussion as to who is the champion pitcher. Mildard player of the senior class of the "Y". Therefore all senior members who can play are asked to sign up at the main office for the contest which will start within the next few days. It is expected that this contest will not only settle the championship question, but will also create some interest among the members.

Tuesday evening, Guy Allen, physical director of the "Y", has called for the second meeting of all senior members interested in representative basketball. The meeting will start promptly at 7:30 and will be followed with a practice session which is scheduled to start at 8.

Tuesday evening there will also be a meeting of representatives of all the churches of Kingston to reorganize the inter-church Basketball League. Last year the church league caused much competition between the various churches. However, although the competition was keen, it proved not disastrous to the interests of the church. There is a rolling in the church league that no member shall play unless he attends three out of four Sunday school periods previous to the game. This tends to increase the steady attendance at church school. It is expected that there will be a fine representation at the meeting Tuesday.

DARTMOUTH MOST POWERFUL SCORING FOOTBALL MACHINE
New York, Oct. 28 (AP).—Although the Tigers of Clemson and the Longhorns of Texas show the way with six straight victories, the Dartmouth Indians are the most powerful scoring football machine in the country, according to figures on undefeated and untied teams compiled by The Associated Press.

Dartmouth, in rolling through the five consecutive victories, has scored 256 points to seven for the opposition. Louisiana State stands second in the scoring table with 228 points, Southern California third with 216 and Clemson fourth with 203.

Defensively Texas leads the field. The Longhorns have yet to permit an enemy score. The other leading undefeated and untied teams are: Southern California, Pittsburgh, Ohio University, Tennessee, Cornell, Minnesota, Purdue, Notre Dame and Utah.

Successful reindeer raising in Alaska has inspired northern Canadians to contract for a herd of 3,000 to be driven from the American territory.

Mickey Walker To Meet Hudkins

New York, Oct. 28 (AP).—The champion of a championship bout was in from the west this week to add his to the boxing business. Mickey Walker is to risk his middle weight title at Los Angeles tomorrow night in a 10-round bout against the most dangerous challenger, Al Hudkins.

Mickey is making his second stand against the Nebraska Wildcat, who having won the first at Chicago last year by the narrowest of margins, many of the ringsters at the time thought Hudkins had won.

Hudkins yesterday declared he would never put on a glove again, he lost, saying he had money enough and didn't care to continue except as champion.

Walker had nothing to say about his final training bout.

While no statement has been issued, there is a general feeling among some who are close on the inside that Walker has not been tipping the beam at as low a poundage as training camp attaches reported.

"Doc" Kearns denied this, however, and said the champion would easily make the 160-pound limit before official weighing-in Tuesday at 2 p. m. Hudkins is down to 155-156 now.

The championship bout at Los Angeles overshadows the rest of the week's national program, but the further east are expected to get the money's worth at the Chicago Coliseum Friday. Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion, who is gunning for the lightweight crown, heads the program in a ten-round bout against Stanislaus Loyan, rough and ready brawler from Chile.

The Philadelphia Arena opens the week's fighting tonight in the city with its usual program of ten rounds. Charley Belanger, Canadian light heavyweight, meets Billy Jean of Philadelphia, in the final bout.

New York's attractions are headed by a pair of local favorites, Max Baizack, Cleveland lightweight, and Ralphy Raffalo of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., in the ten-round final at the St. Nicholas arena tonight, and Jack "Kid" Barry, heavy English junior, writer, battles Mickey Gorman of New York at the Olympia A. C. Saturday.

The Next Sheriff

Perhaps no man in Ulster county is better known than is Dr. Wright J. Smith, Republican candidate for the office of sheriff of the county. A resident of Ulster county practically all of his life, Wright J. Smith in his profession as veterinary surgeon has visited practically every town and hamlet in the county during the years of his practice. Those who do not personally know "Doc" Smith know him by reputation, for during his years practice about Ulster and adjoining counties he has gained a reputation which any man should be proud of.

Quiet and unassuming, Dr. Wright J. Smith has gone about his professional business for many years establishing a reputation for efficiency, honesty and determination which has resulted in his becoming known throughout this section of the state as a man who can be depended upon to do what he has to do in a business-like manner, without any undue excitement or false representations.

The county of Ulster needs a man of this type as sheriff. There are many duties in and about the office which call for determination, cool, expert action, and in such matters Dr. Wright J. Smith has proven his qualifications. There has never been a better administration in the office of sheriff of the county than during 1913-1920 when Dr. Smith was sheriff of the county. During his term he was personally in charge of the office and knew what was going on there at all times. His business training gave him the ability to conduct the county's business in an efficient and

The moderate supply of western New York celery unloaded on the wholesale section today met a prompt sale when fancy, and values further strengthened. Offerings in the rough, packed in two-thirds crates sold principally at $2.50.

Some real fancy, however, reached $3, while some offgrade worked out at $2. Of the 91 carloads of celery received on the New York market last week, 77 cars were contributed by this state.

Price on fancy green peas advanced again. Demand was fairly active and receipts relatively light. Bushel hampers from California jobbed out at $4.50 to $5.50, and consignments from Virginia and Carolina brought $2 to $3.50.

Western New York Concord grapes were in light receipt. Trading was more active and business on twelve-quart baskets was consummated chiefly at 50 cents.

The demand for state cabbage was rather slow. Price changes, however, were few and small, especially on good quality stock. White Danish, in bulk, peddled out at railroad yards at $25 to $30 per ton.

Cabbage receipts last week filled 79 cars. Supplies of domestic yellow onions were fairly liberal. The market as a whole was generally inactive. The top price obtained on the best offerings in carlots from upstate was $1.85 per 100 pound sack.

The market showed no material change on white potatoes. Generous supplies were available at most terminals. White potatoes, in bulk, from upstate, jobbed out at $4.85 to $5 per 100 pounds. Most sales on Long Island Green Mountain potatoes were reported at $5.25.

Tomatoes of attractive quality sold more readily in a steadier market. The supply was moderate and came principally from California. Lugs of approximately 30 pounds brought $1.75 to $2 for the best. On-grade ranged from $1 to $1.50.

Last week California forwarded 153 carloads of tomatoes to this city.

The United States, a poor third in 1900 in Latin-America trade, now buys and sells more goods there than England, France and Germany combined.
